

Lumber Supply and Demand.

The Muskegon News says for the first time this season the mills now have all the logs they can cut—more than 20,000 daily, and the stock in sight is sufficient to maintain this through the season. The total of logs to be rafted in 1882 will reach 700,000,000 feet. In Wisconsin and Minnesota the cut, though very large, is behind the demand. In north Wisconsin two new lumber districts adjacent to the railroad between St. Paul and Ashland have been opened and will add over 200,000 feet to the product. These figures give some idea of the inroads that are being made on the northern pine forests. Maine has long ceased to be the great source of supply for pine lumber. Her forests were nearly all destroyed years ago, and now she is growing a second crop of pine. It is found that by leaving the young trees the forests grow again, and thousands of cleared acres are there protected from fire and watched for the crop, which grows to a profitable size in about twenty years. The second crop is never so good as the first, but it is said to pay for the cutting.

The St. Paul Pioneer Press publishes the following synopsis of the vote on passing the River and Harbor bill over the President's veto. It shows that in both houses a much larger per cent of Democrats than of Republicans voted for the bill, and a much smaller per cent against it:

House of Representatives	Yeas	Nays
Republicans	12	10
Democrats	108	10
Total	120	20

This analysis ought to stop the mouths of the Democratic politicians who seek to make party capital out of the passage of the River and Harbor bill. The Democrats in Congress are as deep in the mud as the Republicans are in the mire.

George Washington Childs is an authority on a number of interesting subjects. Just now he is interested in the subject of the cure and diet of infants, whom he says should be nursed down with a brick sponge daily, and sent to bed at regular hours, and with great promptness. He also expatiates on their diet, at great length and with much detail, showing that he has once been an infant, and knows how it is himself. The trouble with G. W. Childs is the same one that afflicts many other reformers. He knows too much the necessities imposed by poverty. His theories are good enough, but totally impracticable to the toiling millions who most need help. Almost anybody can keep a baby somewhat clean; but when it comes to three pints of good milk per day, with beef tea and chicken soup, and the other things thrown in, the hard fact of an empty purse steps in to defeat the project. There are plenty of people who have no time to keep clean, even. More's the pity.

A person of some importance to life insurance companies has just been rendered. An attachment against the property of the North-western Mutual Life Insurance company of Milwaukee was granted the other day by the supreme court of New York in an action brought by Jonathan Cannon on a life insurance policy for $2,500. The company in 1878 issued a policy to James Lloyd in the benefit of himself and his spouse. Lloyd assigned it to Gaylord Watson, a creditor, and died shortly after at San Francisco. The company admits the policy was valid, but refuses to pay, on the ground that by a rule of the company they require the estate of the deceased to be admitted to the attachment before paying any loss. The attachment was obtained upon the ground that the company is a foreign corporation, being organized under the laws of Wisconsin, and having its principal office in that state.

The Illinois State Engineer Dealers' association, yesterday formally resolved to join the Democratic party. This is the sentiment of Mr. Taming both ways. Hendricks is watched. Now he can turn his face in the opposite direction, and still cling upon the Democratic ranks, point to the second part of his platform, and achieve another victory probably.

Some farmers with the prohibition cause will find much ground for engagement in the re-nomination of Gov. St. John, and in the flat footed declarations of the Kansas Republican State convention on the subject of temperance.

The Chicago Journalist will say: "A good many Congressmen will need some of the river and harbor appropriation money to repair their political fences."

The great strike of the freight haulers at New York has ended in failure, and the iron workers' strike seems to be about ready to collapse.

The business man who says he is well known that it is not necessary for him to advertise forgets that on an average fully one-fourth of the population changes every year. Some people die, others move away, and new citizens come in their place. Besides this, the man who does not advertise is soon forgotten by many who knew him, or if they think of him at all they wonder why he did not.

Hon. JASON ROGERS, the Republican nominee for senator in the Decatur district, was a member of the last general assembly. He is an excellent business man and makes an excellent legislator. He makes many good speeches, and he will make a very useful senator. The Republicans of the XXIXth district are to be congratulated on their wise nomination.—State Journal.

The South is Happy.

The Southern papers are nearly as unanimous in commending the passage of the River and Harbor bill over the President's veto as the Northern papers are in condemning it. This can doubtless be accounted for by the large appropriations which the bill gives to that section. The New Orleans Picayune indulges in the following high flown rhetoric over the success of the job: "The Congress of the United States has, so to speak, sat down on the President. The whole nation will say amen." Out through the plains of Illinois, beyond the Rocky Mountains, beside the Pacific, by the shores of the great lakes, on west to the Columbia and down to the buried cities of Arizona, amid the eypress swamps of Louisiana, among the everglades of Florida, wherever the Gulf waves sound or the Atlantic roars, is heard the re-echo of the echo of applause that followed the vote over the veto.

Ever since it was decided that Cadet Whitaker lost his ears by biting them off himself, the military post at West Point has retrograded as a first class sensation center. This fact has been mourned by the national press and deplored in military circles. It is not surprising, therefore, to find that the announcement of a fight which occurred there last week caused a ripple of unspeakable delight to roll all over this broad land from ocean to ocean. Veteran journalists smiled once more, and thrust their gleaming pens into blacker ink as they called for extra quires of paper. The old fire of the battle field again lit up the eyes, dimming with the time of years, that blinked in the heads of the grim-visaged warriors engaged in doing the country service at many a fashionable watering place and inland summer resort.

The scabbard learned a newer clank; the camp fire burned with a ruddier gleam; less water went into the commissariat whiskey and more ice was packed around the champagne baskets. It was a season of general rejoicing and so great was the rejoicing that the details of the fight have just come in. The principals were Cadets Frank A. Cook, from Rhode Island, aged 18, and Edward N. Scudder, from Mississippi, aged 21. The referee was Alfred B. Jackson, from Massachusetts. No definite cause is given for the affray, but it is certain that the Mississippi man, though the larger and older of the two, was knocked out of time and carried to the hospital on a stretcher. An investigation is now being made, which will lead to a court martial and the probable dismissal from the academy of all concerned in the mill.

This, however, is of little consequence. The reputation of West Point has been maintained so that all is not yet lost.

On the eve of a Yorkshire election Mrs. Wentworth Beaumont (a great and owned an aged lady, drove in her chariot and four to Downing street, and sought an interview with the then Prime Minister, with whom she was well acquainted. "Well, my lord, are you quite determined to make your man stand for our seat?" "Quite determined." "Very well, I am on my way to Yorkshire with $100,000 in my carriage for my man. Try and do better than that." Lord Dacre, who told this story, said that he had known the Government spend $200,000 secret-service money on an election.

The Hon. Emily A. Stokes, who, with his wife, is spending the summer in Europe, writing to friends from London under date of July 25, says: "We have enjoyed every moment of the time. The country is interesting and beautiful beyond my powers of description. We have been, and still are, in excellent health and spirits." Mr. Stokes will visit the principal cities on the continent, and return to the United States about the middle of October.

There is to be held at Jefferson City, Mo., some time during the latter part of the month, a council of colored citizens of the State to consider the educational, industrial and political interests of their race. The subject of a mechanical and industrial school will be discussed, with a view to secure legislative assistance. The call is made by a number of the most prominent colored people throughout Missouri.

The Mormons are no longer so fond of parading their pot inscriptions. When this point has been reached in the war upon an evil, a great step has been gained toward its eradication. "I would like to see your family, your polygamies, wives," said an eastern visitor, recently, to one of the Mormon elders. "I'll see you in a first—!" was the irreverent and lusty reply.

Hon. JASON ROGERS, our nominee for state senator, is a gentleman who did credit to his district in the house and is highly spoken of by all those who know him. His experience in legislative matters will be of great advantage to the district and will give him an influence which no new member could hope to have. The Republicans of Logan county must see to it that he has a hearty support. —Lincoln Herald.

NEWS BY TELEGRAPH.

RE-NOMINATED.

St. John put up for a Third Term.

Other Political Points.

TOPEKA, Kan., Aug. 10.—The Republican state convention reconvened at 9:45 this morning. The committee on resolutions reported as follows:

We, the Republicans of the state of Kansas in delegate convention assembled, affirming our faith in, and adherence to, the principles of the Republican party, hereby express our confidence in our present national and state administrations, and we pledge ourselves to their support, and announce the following as our declaration of principles:

Resolved, That we declare ourselves unopposed in favor of the prohibition of the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors as a beverage, and pledge ourselves to such additional legislation as shall secure the rigid enforcement of the constitutional provision upon this subject in all parts of the state.

Resolved, That we demand the enactment of such laws as will prevent discrimination by railroad companies and will provide for such freight and passenger tariffs as shall fully protect the interests of the public.

Resolved, That we request the next legislature to submit such an amendment to the constitution of the state as will secure to women the right of suffrage.

Colonel Martin, of Atchison, offered an amendment to the woman suffrage plank to the effect that the question of voting be first submitted to the women of the state, which was voted down. The vote stood 214 for to 243 against.

The roll was called on the woman question, and it was adopted. Resolved, That we request our delegation in congress to secure such an amendment to the revenue laws as will prevent the issuing of receipts or stamps to sell intoxicating liquors to others than those authorized so to do under state laws.

This last resolution was not offered as a part of the platform, but the convention inserted it in the report. These resolutions were discussed for some time. Two additional resolutions were added by the convention, as follows:

Resolved, That we are in favor of the strict and immediate enforcement of all the laws now upon the statute books for the regulation of railroads.

Resolved, That we ask of the Republican majority of the congress of the United States to pass such laws as will compel the railways of this state to take patents for the lands granted them for the public domain to the state and that all property in this state shall pay its just proportion of the taxes levied to support the government.

The following resolution was offered and adopted: Resolved, That the Republicans of Kansas heartily indorse President Arthur's veto of the River and Harbor bill and the action of the United States delegation in sustaining that veto.

Nominations were then in order. Dr. J. Browner was nominated for associate justice by acclamation. John P. St. John and Solon O. John were placed in nomination. The roll call shows that John P. St. John received 287 votes, Thatcher 82, J. B. Johnson 12, John A. Martin 2.

The protest of the anti St. John men against the nomination of St. John, telegraphed yesterday, was then presented and filed with the proceedings of the convention. Gov. St. John was then called for and made a brief speech. No effort was made to make St. John's nomination unanimous. The remainder of the state ticket was then nominated as follows: D. W. Finney, present incumbent, for lieutenant governor; James Smith, present incumbent, secretary of state; McCabe (colored), of Graham county, for auditor; treasurer, Samuel S. Howe; attorney general, H. C. Speer.

After the appointment of a state central committee, the convention adjourned sine die.

Chicago, Aug. 10. Paul Talher, a machinist on Division street, who has frequently quarreled with his young wife, took a heroic method of ending their troubles, this afternoon. Taking her to one side in their domicile, he asked, "Will you obey me after this?" Receiving an evasive reply, he pulled a 32-caliber revolver and fired two shots into her breast, killing her instantly. Stepping into an adjoining room he then put a bullet through his own heart. They have been married two years, and have one child.

The time of march followed by the Masons yesterday, was east on East Main street to Water, north on Water to Eldorado, east on Eldorado to Jackson, corner-terrace west to Edward, south on Edward to William, east on William to the Temple. The members of Goodman's premium band acquitted themselves splendidly yesterday in furnishing music for the Masonic ceremonies at the temple and in the parade. They led the procession and played as well if not better than the best band in the whole line. It is the next three days I will give away a fancy china tea set, consisting of fifty-six pieces, with one hundred cans of Corn Baking Powder. Try it. Respectfully, J. H. VENNERSHOLZ. We are informed by the attorneys for John H. Skeeter that the difficulty between him and the agents of the Northwestern Lighting Rod Company, of Chicago, has been amicably settled. That note for $32,244, signed by Mr. Skeeter, has been paid, but in the compromise there was considerable of a reduction about $100. The reunion of old settlers of Central Illinois, at Mt. Pulaski, Logan county, Sept. 13, will, it is expected, be the biggest affair of its kind ever held in the state. For the barbeque there will be slaughtered forty sheep, forty pigs and six oxen. The people who above all are to be guests of the highest rank on that day are those who were in Illinois before the deep snow. They will be designated as "the pioneers" and each will be given a cane and blue badge. All others who have been in the state forty years will be given a badge, but of another color.

THE BOND OUTRAGE CASE. Close of the Examination—Pettis, Clement and J. C. Montgomery Held to Answer. THE SITUATION TO-DAY. Special Telegram to the Daily Republican. TAYLORVILLE, Aug. 11, 9 a. m.—Up to six o'clock last night the defense had succeeded to such an extent in the proof of an alibi that but little interest was apparent on the part of the public in the termination of the examination, and the court room presented a very ordinary spectacle, but few people besides those directly connected with the case being present, and about this time the defense announced that they would rest their case. The prosecution desired to introduce some testimony in rebuttal, and proceeded by calling Samuel Sadler, a man of standing and influence in the community, to the stand, to impeach the testimony of John Montgomery, Sr., as to statements the latter had made just after the outrage was committed, and concerning which Montgomery had pronounced an unqualified denial, in his testimony. Montgomery, the father of John C. and Wm. J., was asked on examination by Judge Vandever if he did not tell Sam Sadler on Friday, June 30th, the day after the outrage, that about 5 o'clock on the 29th he and his son John stood by the road house in front of the school house and talked for about an hour or an hour and a half while, unknown to them, these devils had the girls up in the loft, Montgomery gave an unqualified denial to the statement and Sadler swore that the old man had made such a statement to him. Mr. A. D. Bond, the father of Miss Bond, Lawrence Heinlein, a uncle of John C. Montgomery, and several others, all men of unqualified veracity, testified to the same thing, and of course succeeded in impeaching Montgomery. A significant feature was that Montgomery, Sr., when the thing was first discovered, expressed himself in this language, in a crowd: "Gentlemen, there is no looking for traps; the devils who in this neighborhood, and must be found, and will be." After the developments tended to connect his sons with the deed, very naturally, for a father, he tried to retract and deny things he had said when he had no thought that any one near and dear to him could possibly be so vile as to have engaged in such brutish work. Hence, when the news went out that he had been impeached, the court house filled up rapidly, with an excited multitude, and at seven o'clock, when the prosecution closed on rebuttal, the people everywhere were expressing the belief that the guilty men were found. AN EXCITED CROWD. Last night the town was filled with an excited crowd, and grave fears were entertained that a lynching would ensue, but better counsel prevailed and all is quiet this morning. THREE PRISONERS HELD. To a. m. At the convening of court this morning, the case was closed and submitted without argument, and at ten o'clock Justice Ticks decided that John C. Montgomery, Lee Pettis and Emanuel Clement be held under bonds to appear at the circuit court, which convenes in November; Montgomery and Pettis $4,000 each, and Clement $3,000. Wm. J. Montgomery was discharged, there not being sufficient testimony to hold him. THE FEELERS AT TAYLORVILLE. What will be done today and to-night no one can tell, but these men are almost universally believed to be the guilty wretches who committed the deed, and there is a feeling, generally shared, that Christian county must violate the law in order to redeem her good name. Let us hope that the sacred precincts of the law may not be ruthlessly invaded, but that in the regular mode of procedure, justice may be allowed to take her course. Social Teachers. There was a large turn out of teachers and friends at the Institute Sociable, held in the inviting lodge room of the Decatur Good Templars, in court house block, last evening. The occasion was highly enjoyable. A reporter mingled with the merry throng for a few minutes, and found J. A. Smith chief director of the exercises. In one out of the hall a large portion of the assembly were taking part in the noted exercises of "Conductor," and in the west end a circle was formed, with four persons in the center, who were playing "Rachel and Jacob." During the evening Mr. Coleman read a poem on "The Woman Question," there was a quartette by four teachers, "Jedidiah," and the famed "Solon concert quartette" sang "Golden Slippers" better than the Weldon band played it: "Bye, baby, bye," and a number of other popular selections. Votes of thanks were tendered the singers, and the Good Templars were also remembered with a vote thanking them for the use of the hall. A Complimentary Serenade. Last evening The Republican office was honored with a formal visit by Peoria Commandery No. 3, Knights Templars, of which A. R. Thompson is E. C. The Commandery was headed by Spencer's celebrated band, the members of which favored us with a charming serenade, the selection being a concert polka for E and B flat cornets, by Parlow. While the band was playing a large crowd of people collected in the street and in the school teachers at the sociable in court house block, came in for a share of the treat. The fame of Spencer's Band extends all over the west, and we make our politest bow to Capt. Thompson and Prof. Spencer for their kindly remembrance. No. 3 was one of the visiting delegations in Decatur yesterday. Before their departure for home last evening they serenaded the hotel proprietors and other newspaper offices. Views of Masonic Scenes. Yesterday R. H. Piper, the photographer, with that big instrument, caught a splendid view of the crowd and scene at the ceremony of relaying the Masonic corner-stone; also a view of the interior of the tabernacle before dinner was served, and an excellent picture of the Sir Knights of Beamanor Commandery No. 9. Mr. Piper will have large-sized photographs of these different scenes on sale at his gallery, and those wishing copies of the same to preserve as mementoes of Masonic Day, August 10th, 1922, should leave orders at once. Stove Wood for sale at coal yard of 2-11th J. H. VENNERSHOLZ.

THE MASONIC BANQUET. Close of an Historical Day in Decatur. By an Immense Gathering of People at the Tabernacle Last Night. TONIGHT, Songs, Music, Feasting and Dancing. Notes of Corner Stone Day and Night. In our issue of last evening was given a full account of the parade and ceremonies attending the re-laying of the old corner stone in the new $25,000 Masonic Temple, in the presence of about 12,000 people, many of whom were strangers in the city. THE MASONIC BANQUET, which served as a fitting close to a day fraught with so much lively interest to all members of the Masonic fraternity, (which order now has a membership of 50,000 in Illinois), was given at the tabernacle and commenced at about 9 o'clock last evening. The spacious room was brilliantly illuminated for the occasion, and the tables, at which sat 850 guests, presented a cheering and animated sight. All resident Masons, their wives and daughters, and all visiting Masons in the city, embraced the fashionably attired assembly. Goodman's cornet band was present and played several beautiful selections. The trained choir, under the leadership of Professor Lutz, sang an appropriate selection. Grand Master Scott and all the grand lodge officers were present, and everybody being properly seated, the feast began. THE MENU. The banquet was prepared under the direction of Mr. Riley Downing, and embraced the following: Chicken Salad, Lobster Salad, Lemon Ice Cream, Vanilla Ice Cream, Strawberry Ice Cream, Coconut Cake, Pound Cake, Apple Cake, Lady Fingers, Almond Macaroons, Jelly Cake, Grapes, French Kisses, Puddings, Assorted Nuts, Layer Raisins, Coffee. THE TOASTS. Mr. L. Burrows, the Grand Marshal, was toastmaster of the evening, and he announced the following toasts in order, to which the gentlemen named responded: The Right Worshipful Grand Lodge of the State of Illinois, whose wise and far-seeing care is exemplified in the growth and prosperity of 779 Lodges and in the harmony which is the strength and support of all institutions, especially ours. Response by Grand Master Scott. The Universal Brotherhood of Masonry, its Lodge and ritual found in every corner of the globe. Response by E. R. Elbridge. Our Visiting Brethren, never strangers in a fraternity which claims a brotherhood with all its kindred. Response by L. L. Munn, of Freeport, Ill. The wives and daughters of the Masons, for whom we live and labor, the watches of the weary lone hours that bring so heavily on Lodge nights; may their patience and good nature be rewarded as deserved. Response by E. P. Vail, Esq. The Bible, Square and Compass, with which all true Masons regulate their conduct and direct their course toward the highest excellence. Response by Rev. W. H. Prestley. Architecture, the outward emblem of Masonry; commemorating a superior civilization; its most illustrious landmark in the progress of time being the building of King Solomon's Temple. Response by Hon. W. E. Nelson. The Influence of Free Masonry in developing the mental and moral powers of men. Response by R. N. Davies, D. D. An extra complimentary toast offered was responded to by D. M. Browning, of Benton, Ill. Some of the responses were rather long drawn out, but the occasion was an important one, and the people listened patiently to the entertaining and instructive addresses of the gentlemen, nearly all of whom took occasion to speak in glowing terms of the achievements of the Masonic order, of its rise and progress, of its safe teachings, of the grand demonstration of relaying the old corner stone, and of the fine banquet, which had been discussed with a relish. The benediction was pronounced by Grand Master Scott, and the guests dispersed at a very late hour. THE CORNER STONE BALL. The complimentary Masonic hop was given in the armory of the Decatur Guards, which was thronged with Masonic citizens who delight to indulge in temperate pleasures. Dancing commenced with music by Goodman's orchestra at 10:30 o'clock, and continued until 2:50 a. m. The following order of dances was observed: 1. Quadrille. 2. Waltz. 3. Quadrille. 4. Waltz. 5. Quadrille. 6. Waltz. 7. Quadrille. 8. Waltz. 9. Quadrille. 10. Waltz. 11. Quadrille. 12. Waltz. 13. Quadrille. 14. Waltz. 15. Quadrille. 16. Waltz. 17. Quadrille. 18. Waltz. 19. Quadrille. 20.
